The list when approved by the Committee is signed by the Learning Resources Committee Chairman and forwarded to the Vice President for Academic Affairs for final approval and procurement. Approved books are procured through local vendors.

(b) Serials/Journals

Serials/Journals procurement is done in the same procedure as is done for books. After approval the orders are placed through local agents as well as through the publishers or associations directly. Journals are purchased in both print and electronic format.

(c) Newspapers

Newspapers are acquired in print format. Emphasis is placed on regional newspapers. Local and English language newspapers are purchased.

(d) Textbooks

Multiple copies of Textbooks are procured for students and faculty that are kept reserved in a special location.

(e) Reprints

Reprints are evaluated for purchase in the same manner as in case of books and journals.

(f) Maps

Maps and charts are purchased and located in the Humanities department.

(g) Audiovisual Materials

Audio/videotapes are purchased primarily to support the work of the academic departments. They should meet the same criteria that govern the selection for books at program level, being neither too simple nor too technical in relation to our educational program. The following criteria are to be evaluated when purchasing media sources:

- i. Availability of required equipment in the library
- ii. The quality of materials such as clarity, color, voice etc.
- iii. Ease of use, storage and durability
- iv. Reputation of its producers.

(h) CD-ROM Discs /Multimedia Kits

CD-ROM Discs /Multimedia kits are purchased for use on equipment available in the library and must meet the criteria for quality and appropriateness that apply to books and periodicals.

(i) Electronic Resources

Electronic resources require computer access. These may be online or offline resources. Faculty members are encouraged to review the online resources periodically. Evaluated commercial selections for purchase will be routed to the Deans/Academic Heads and then to the Librarian following the same procedure as in case of books and journals. Non-commercial websites for linkage on the library's web page will be forwarded to faculty and students also. The collection is periodically evaluated and updated by Learning Resources Committee. Suggestions are sought from the teaching faculty as well.

5.2 Policies on Replacement

Materials that are missing, damaged or lost will not be replaced automatically but is dependent upon the following criteria:

- Recommendation by the concerned faculty.
- Availability
- Budget

Items reported at the circulation desk as “missing” are listed and searched for by library staff as time permits. Those not found after several weeks are designated as “Missing” in the online catalogue. Items known to be lost are withdrawn from the catalogue for possible replacement. To determine the age of the missing item, it is imperative to note the date on which the missing status is first assigned. For replacement, the same edition or the latest edition is ordered. For the item reported to have been lost or damaged by any user the copy is to be replaced or the cost of acquisition in lieu of the original is to be paid.

5.3 Policies on Loss of Books

Loss of three volumes per one thousand volumes issued/consulted in a year may be taken as reasonable provided such a loss cannot be attributed to dishonesty or negligence on the part of Librarian. Loss of a book of the value exceeding Dhs.100 and the books of special nature and rarity shall invariably be investigated by a sub-committee constituted by the Learning Resources Committee and consequential action taken. All such losses will however be written off only by the library committee.

coexistence of male and female students in the University. The University intention is to limit this coexistence to the minimum level required for academic purposes and discourage any extension of this beyond academics. The foregoing purpose shall be achieved through the following arrangements which should be strictly followed.

Seating Arrangements

In class-rooms/ lecture halls / laboratories / library:

- (a) There shall be separate seating arrangements for male and female students, unless otherwise prescribed. This rule shall be followed for all lectures, seminars and presentations for the courses and academic programs (unless otherwise necessary for special programs).
- (b) Student services and facilities, e.g. canteens, library, common areas, rest-areas, transport services and sport facilities. The male and female students should only avail the separate and designated spaces, seating arrangements and facilities provided for them. All information technology resources are the property of the university. Except for personally-owned computers, the university owns, or has responsibility for, all of the computers and internal computer networks used on campus. Users of university computing resources and facilities do not own the systems or the accounts they use when accessing university computers or systems. All existing national laws and university regulations and policies apply, including not only those regulations that are specific to computers and networks but also those that may apply generally to personal conduct and public property. Rules prohibiting misuse, theft, or vandalism apply to all software, data, and physical equipment, including university-owned data as well as data stored by individuals on university computing systems.

6.5.1 IT Equipment Appropriate Use Guidelines

The rights of academic freedom and freedom of expression apply to the use of university computing resources. So too, however, do the responsibilities and limitations that are associated with those rights. The use of university computing resources, like the use of any other university-provided resource and like any other university-related activity, is subject to the normal requirements of legal and ethical behavior. Employee and student access to and use of electronic tools such as e-mail and the Internet are intended for university business and educationally-related purposes. Limited and reasonable use of these tools for occasional employee personal purposes is permitted as long as the use does not result in additional cost or loss of time or resources for intended business purposes.

6.5.2 Inappropriate Uses

Public computers and printers, such as those found in the Computer Labs may not be used for accessing and reproducing offensive documents. The University assumes that Internet users will act responsibly and not engage in prohibited activities that can lead to disciplinary action.

6.5.5 AGU Website

AGU maintains a presence on the Internet through a web site (www.agu.ac.ae). The IT Department coordinates the development of web pages and determines the appropriateness of the material as well as the placement of pages in the structure of the University site. If the material submitted is not original, written permission from the copyright owner is needed. To publish information/graphics without written permission is a violation of copyright laws and subject to disciplinary action.

6.5.6 Electronic Mail

E-mail is provided for faculty, staff and students as a means of improved communication with colleagues and for use in connection with University related matters only. Because e-mail by nature is not secure, users should be aware of the limitations on the expectation of privacy. Therefore, users are responsible for changing their e-mail passwords periodically and removing any confidential mail from their computers as soon as possible. Information stored on University computer resources is the property of University, which reserves the right to retrieve and review material at any time, including information protected by password. The system must not be used to send chain letters or to transmit offensive material such as messages that are derogatory, obscene or otherwise inappropriate.

In cases where personal or public property has been stolen, defaced, disfigured, damaged, or destroyed, the disciplinary sanction shall also include an appropriate monetary reimbursement for compensatory damages.

6.8 Students' Grievances

AGU is committed to extend fair and impartial treatment to all of its students. The purpose of this policy is to ensure that the students' rights are protected concerning academic, financial and administrative matters and that the students have the opportunity to raise/lodge their complaints. This policy also explains the necessary mechanism to ensure a proper and timely action to address their complaints and grievances.

6.8.1 Procedures

There shall be a Students' Grievance and Appeal Committee (SGAC) appointed by the President. This committee shall comprise at least three senior faculty/staff members. ## 7 Academic Policies

This section provides the academic policies that includes academic system, academic load, grading system, program completion requirements, academic progress, grading policies and attendance. These policies are also available through AGU web portal that you can access after using your login credentials.

7.1 Academic System

7.1.1 Semester

The University's academic activities are based on the American model of education which uses the credit hours and semester system. Semester means duration of study approximately equivalent to fifteen weeks. Each academic year consists of two semesters, fall and winter. The University may also run a Summer Semester of 9 weeks duration.

7.1.2 Credit Hour

One credit hour represents a course pursued for one period weekly during one semester of fifteen (15) weeks or for an equivalent period in a summer semester. Generally, a course valued at 3-credit hours requires three periods weekly for one semester; a 2-credit course requires two periods a week for a semester, and so forth.

Normally, the lecture or recitation period is 50 minutes long and the laboratory period is one hundred (100) minutes.

The number of credit hours is indicated in parentheses after each course title in the course outline, as (T-L-P). T = total credit hours; L = lecture hours; P = Laboratory / practical / tutorial hours.

7.1.3 Class Size Policy

At the graduate level the class size for theory sessions will be 40 students and the class size for laboratory sessions will strictly be 25 students at the maximum.

Note: At the graduate level the above mentioned limits are strictly enforced in case of specialization courses and may be relaxed for non-specialization courses to a maximum of 70 students when the nature of the subject and the instructional method permit it. The class size limits for foundation and core courses, may accordingly be increased up to 70 students at the maximum after submission of proper justification for the approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

The Deans/Academic Heads/Program Directors should monitor class enrollments in the semester prior to commencement of classes so that faculty will have adequate time for modifications if their teaching schedules change.

7.2 Academic Load

The graduate program student shall be allowed academic load of twelve (12) credit hours per semester at the maximum. However, graduating student can register up to fifteen (15) credit hours in the last semester of studies provided that his/her CGPA is 3.5 or above.

A student with CGPA less than 3.0 will be on probation and can register for a maximum of nine (09) credit hours in a semester.

For Visiting Graduate Students

Visiting students are allowed to register for nine (9) credit hours in a semester.

7.3 Intensive Modes of Course Delivery

AGU has a policy of delivering courses over a period shorter than the standard semester, for example, summer semester. A 3-credit course which is normally delivered in a standard semester of 15 weeks (45 credit hours) could be delivered in an intensive mode during a condensed period of 9 weeks, i.e., summer semester. The intensive mode would not affect the quality of the course or standard of the program but would provide a higher degree of flexibility in the delivery of the courses and programs which is useful in addressing the needs of our graduate students who are mostly full-time professionals and struggle to balance their study with their professional and private lives.

7.3.1 Academic Standards and Policies

AGU will ensure that the intensive mode format shall observe and implement same set of academic policies, rules and regulations as for regular format. A summary of characteristics of intensive mode format that will be common with the regular format are given below:

1. Admission and registration policy
2. Student academic load
3. Class size policy
4. Academic standing
5. Grading system
6. Graduation requirement
7. Course assessment
8. Feedback to students
9. Grades appeal
10. Class attendance
11. Academic integrity
12. Examination policies and regulations
13. Internal co-examiner and external examiner system
14. Faculty workload
15. Academic advising
16. Student evaluation of teaching
17. Course files
18. Course learning outcome assessment
19. Program effectiveness

7.3.2 Compliance with CAA Guidelines

The content of the courses offered in the intensive mode shall be amenable to the courses offered in standard semester in terms of class contact time and comparable expectations for out-of-class study time. AGU will also ensure that the courses offered in the condensed format will have the sufficient time for preparation, reflection, analysis and the achievement of learning outcomes by fully complying with the CAA guidelines received on May11, 2010 entitled “Intensive delivery of higher education programs - CAA Guidelines”.

7.4 Grading System

The University uses the relative grading system which is based on a four point scale to calculate the grade point average (GPA). A student must score a minimum grade of C to pass a graduate course and must have a minimum cumulative grade point average (CGPA) of 3 out of 4 to qualify for graduation from a Master's program. In order to be considered in good academic standing a student must maintain a CGPA of at least 3.0.

Letter Grade	Description	Included in		Grade Points	Percentage
		Credits Counted	CGPA
A	Excellent	Yes	Yes	4.00	90.00-100
A-	Very Good	Yes	Yes	3.70	85.00-89.99
B+	Good	Yes	Yes	3.30	80.00-84.99
B	Good	Yes	Yes	3.00	75.00-79.99
B-	Acceptable	Yes	Yes	2.70	70.00-74.99
C+	Minimally Acceptable	Yes	Yes	2.30	65.00-69.99
C	Minimally Acceptable	Yes	Yes	2.00	60.00-64.99
F	Fail	Yes	Yes	0.00	0-59.99
WF	Withdraw Fail	No	No	N/A
IC	Incomplete	No	No	N/A
P	Pass (for Credit Transfer)	Yes	No	N/A
W	Withdrawal	No	No	N/A
R	Repeated	No	No	N/A
#	Not Counted	No	No	N/A

7.4.1 General Rules

Each grade (shown in the above table) has an effect on the student's academic progress and academic standing. The following provisions shall be applicable while interpreting the impact of these grades:

- Students must repeat or replace any required course in which a grade F, WF, or W is awarded.
- When a course is repeated, an F, WF, or W will be changed to R on the student transcript, while the new grade (also shown on the transcript) substitutes for the letter grade "F".
- Grades for which no grade point value is assigned, (such as WF, IC, P, W, and R) are not used in the computation of GPA/CGPA.
- For non-credit courses "#" code is assigned before the course code and is not included in the computation of GPA/CGPA.

7.4.2 Withdrawal Grade

A student missing a prescribed number of classes in a course or failed to withdraw from a course before a prescribed deadline published in the academic calendar may be subjected to "withdraw fail" grade and assigned a letter grade "WF" in the system. A student may opt to withdraw from the course before a prescribed published deadline and is assigned a letter grade "W".

7.4.3 Incomplete Grade

Grade (IC) can be granted when a student has satisfactorily completed at least three fourth of the semester course work but for reasons(s) beyond the student's control, and acceptable to the instructor, cannot complete the last part of the course, and the instructor believes that the student can finish the course without repeating it and also has passing status in the course work. A student who receives an (IC) is responsible for making up whatever part of course work was left during the next offering of that course. If the course requirements are not completed within the specified time, a grade (F) will be recorded and the CGPA will be adjusted accordingly. Students who are making up an incomplete work shall not register for the course requiring the makeup work. However, the students must make individual arrangements with the instructor who assigned the (IC) grade or any other instructor who is teaching this particular course at that time. It is the responsibility of a student to follow up with the course instructor or the Dean/Academic Head, to ensure that the incomplete part of course work is completed.

7.4.4 Grade Point Average

The academic performance in any semester is indicated by the Grade Point Average (GPA). The GPA is the sum of grade points for each course taken by the student during the semester divided by the total number of credit hours attempted during that semester.

Computation of GPA

The GPA is computed as follows:

- i. Multiply the points earned in a course by the credit hours of the course.
- ii. Add all the points earned in all the courses taken during specific semester.
- iii. Divide this sum by the total number of credit hours registered by the student in that particular semester.

7.4.5 Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA)

The overall academic performance in all semesters is given by the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA). The CGPA is the sum of grade points for all courses taken by the student during all semesters inclusive of the current semester divided by the total number of graded credit hours attempted for all courses taken by the student during all semester inclusive of the current semester.

Computation of CGPA

The CGPA is computed as follows:

- i. Add the Credit Points for all semesters, as calculated above (Total credit points).
- ii. Divide this sum by the total number of credit hours attempted.

7.4.6 Academic Terminologies

Concentration area: The concentration area is specified for each program, number and level of credit hours required for each.

7.5 Completion Requirement

- c) The student must have earned at least 50% of his/her credits at AGU.

A student who has completed 80% of the required credit hours must meet his/her academic adviser to ensure that he/she can meet the program requirements for graduation on time. The student shall pay the specified university graduation fee at the start of the semester in which the student is expected to complete all graduation requirements.

The students must complete “The Application for Graduation” form. The information concerning the graduation (such as time, place, invitation, and rental of academic regalia) shall be mailed to the students who have submitted this form. No student will receive his/her degree or diploma or a copy of transcript unless the University fees are fully paid by the student.

7.7 Assessment

- (a) A student failing to satisfy the requirements in any component of the prescribed course work for any course will be assigned an NC grade for that component [NC is not a grade that appears in the grading system. It is only an indicator for a component that is not completed by a student].
- (b) Student failing to pass the continuous components of a course may be debarred from writing the semester-end exam for that course.
- (c) The decision for debarring a student from the final examination in any course shall be the responsibility of the College/Departmental Board upon recommendation from the course instructor through Dean/ Academic Head.

- (e) The assessment items used in the course must assess the appropriate course learning outcomes.
- (f) The choice of assessment items in junior and senior year level courses must not only be at an appropriate level but also reflect progression from introductory to advance learning.
- (g) Semester-end examinations may carry a maximum of 30% of the total marks. A student failing to pass the semester-end exam of a course will be considered failed in that particular course.

- (h) Continuous assessment items may consist of class work, assignments, phase tests, projects, cases studies, presentations, practical/laboratory tasks, field work etc., may carry a minimum of 70% of the total marks.
- (i) The total number of continuous assessment items in a single semester course shall be between 4 and 6.

7.8 Feedback to Students

- (e) The committee shall submit its recommendation to the Dean/Academic Head within one week from its formation. The decision of the Dean/Academic Head shall be considered final in determining the marks / grade of the appealing student.

7.10 Attendance

- (a) Attendance is the presence in classes, laboratories, workshops and/or studio sessions or any other activity prescribed in a course that requires attendance of the student.
- (b) Students are expected to attend classes regularly. Lateness or absence hinders student's progress and also affect his/ her grade. Instructor may or may not allow the students to make up any work/assignment/task or a test that they have missed due to their absence.
- (c) Lateness is defined by the instructor for his /her sessions. Generally, four occasions of lateness count as one absence. It should be clearly documented in the course teaching plan and instructors are to draw students' attention to attendance requirement.
- (d) If a student misses five percent (5%) of the total number of classes in a course without a legitimate reason accepted by the University, the student shall receive a documented verbal warning from the instructor.
- (e) If a student misses fifteen percent (15%) of the total number of classes in a course without a legitimate reason accepted by the University, the student shall receive a written warning from the Dean/HOD.
- (f) In the event a student misses twenty five percent (25%) of the total number of classes in a course, for any reason, the instructor may initiate a case of withdrawal of the student from the course. If approved by the Dean/Academic Head, the withdrawal is implemented. A grade WF will be entered on the student's record.
- (g) Attendance records are maintained and entered in the student information and management system on a regular basis.

7.11 Capstone Project

The capstone project is one of two options students can select for the some of the graduate programs of the university. The capstone project provides an alternative for those students who prefer to present their culminating experience in a format other than the thesis format required by the university. Students will be required to submit the capstone project proposal outlining the main purpose, goals and objectives of the capstone project. The project proposal will be reviewed and approved by one faculty member of the college in addition to their supervisor. The supervisor will submit the approved proposal to the program director/head for further processing and record. Furthermore, the capstone project will be conducted over a period of one semester that will allow sufficient time to perform the tasks listed in the proposal, collect, compile and analyze the data and prepare a manuscript for evaluation. To standardize the presentation and format of the capstone project, all students enrolled in the capstone project will be required to use a "capstone project template" provided by the supervisor.

8 Academic Advising

At AGU, academic advising is viewed as the foundation stone of all academic programs and learning activities. It is the most significant mechanism through which students will be able to relate their career goals to their educational programs and experience. Academic advising is also the most important service on campus because it helps students to negotiate their college experience in a positive way.

Academic advising services are committed to providing students with opportunity and guidance to realize their maximum educational potential for their professional and personal development. This is achieved through communication and sharing of information between advisors and students.

8.1 Objectives of Academic Advising

Academic advising services have the following specific objectives:

- (a) Clarify the university and college policies and procedures regarding all academic issues such as registration, credit transfer, tuition fees payment, selection of courses, assessment, grading and graduation requirements.
- (b) Provide students with information and guidance to explore alternative career options.
- (c) Help students evaluate their academic programs and locate other referral and support resources.
- (d) Support student retention strategies of the University.
- (e) Encourage and help students to develop a sense of self-direction and accept responsibility for their own education and future.

8.2 Process of Academic Advising

- (a) All new students shall be assigned an academic advisor by the College Dean/Head of Academic Department.
- (b) Number of students assigned to a faculty advisor shall depend on the needs of the students, the teaching load of the faculty and the college needs. The number of students assigned to the advisor shall not exceed ten (10) students per advisor.

8.3 Roles and Responsibilities of Advisors

Academic advisors provide individualized attention and assistance to all students assigned to them. The ultimate goal of an advisor is to ensure that his/her advisees are progressing successfully toward completion of their degree requirements and achievement of their career goals. Beside this major role, advisors will assume the following roles and responsibilities:

- (a) To develop broad vision of their roles as academic advisors and relate that vision to the goals and mission of the university.
- (b) To clarify university policies, procedures, and rules to their advisees.
- (c) To monitor academic and personal development of their advisees.
- (d) To appreciate the importance of academic advising in achieving the strategic goals of the university including the strategies for students retention.

- (e) To develop themselves as experienced academic advisors and acquaint themselves with all new theories and practices in the area of academic advising.
- (f) To identify any gaps or inefficient procedures in the delivery of the academic programs and report the same to the concerned administrative units/colleges within the university.
- (g) To understand and acquaint themselves with all academic policies and regulations of the university specially those pertaining to their broad area of specialization or their specific college/academic unit.
- (h) To recognize that the ultimate and final decisions regarding all academic advising activities is the responsibility of the advisee himself/herself. It is the responsibility of the advisor to always remind his/her students of this fact.
- (i) To recognize that the academic advising relationship depends to a large extent on mutual trust and respect between the advisor and the advisees. Advisors are required to treat their advisees with respect and to develop good rapport with them.
- (j) To meet their advisees at least twice during each semester.
- (k) To maintain a complete record of all advising sessions.
- (l) To understand that certain advising situations might dictate advising that may go beyond the academic aspects, for example, their personal matters. In these situations the advisor might want to seek the help of other resources inside the university like the counseling services or other professional counselors outside the university.
- (m) To recognize that sometimes advisors might want to play the role of facilitators and mediators. These circumstances require certain skills and advisors should be aware of this.

8.4 Roles and Responsibilities of Students

The basic principle of the academic advising services is that the student is ultimately responsible for his/her academic decisions. As such, students should familiarize themselves with the university system, rules, and procedures and they should use this information to make decisions regarding their academic programs and career options. Students' roles and responsibilities include the following:

- (a) To share with their advisors all information necessary for efficient academic advising processes and activities.
- (b) To familiarize him/her-self with all academic rules and regulations included in the Graduate Handbook and Catalog.
- (c) To know the location of his/her advisor office, hours assigned for advising, the procedure for advising e.g. if a prior appointment is required.
- (d) To keep records of the graduation requirements of his/her specific program of study. It is the ultimate responsibility of the student to fulfill these requirements.
- (e) To note and follow all important deadlines for various academic activities such as registration, withdrawal from a program, drop and add of courses, fees payment, exam dates, etc.
- (f) To contact the appropriate support services on campus or outside the university as directed by their advisors.
- (g) To meet at least twice during a single academic year (an academic year is normally two semesters) with their advisors. It is strongly recommended that the first of these meetings be at the registration time of the first semester of the specific academic year.

- (h) To alert immediately their academic advisor if they begin to face difficulties that might affect their academic performance. For example, students are required to meet their advisors immediately if their CGPA falls below 3.00 points which is the minimum required average for an acceptable graduate academic standing.
- (i) To take initiative to meet their advisors and to be active participants in all advising sessions.
- (j) To maintain their own personal academic records which may include their year of admission to AGU, transcripts tracking audits, notes and communications from previous advising sessions etc.
- (k) To attend all orientation sessions conducted by various units of the university and specially those sessions conducted by students' specific college or program.

8.5 Role of College Deans/Heads of Departments

- (a) Dean/Academic Head shall initiate and finalize plan for assigning all students to an appropriate faculty member.
- (b) The Dean/Academic Head shall receive progress report and action plans regarding the process of academic advising from the academic advisors, twice in each semester. At the end of each semester, through consultation with the advisors and concerned faculty members the plan shall be evaluated for its effectiveness and any perceived deficiency in order to improve or modify the plans. These suggestions and decisions for improvement shall be recorded. Feedback from students shall also be obtained regarding quality of academic advice and support received from each advisor.
- (c) To organize and plan orientation sessions for students and academic advisors, at the beginning of each semester. The objectives of these is to:
  - i. Help create awareness about the need for academic advising.
  - ii. Help clarify the mutual roles and responsibilities of students and faculty members.
  - iii. Identify the criteria for measuring the program effectiveness.
- (d) To provide all relevant records to the concerned advisors and the Registration Office. Such records include:
  - i. Admission details
  - ii. Grades secured in qualifying examination
  - iii. Marks/grades in continuous assessment tasks
  - iv. Attendance records.

How should Students make maximum use of the Advising Services?

Each student at AGU is assigned an academic advisor at the time of admission. Students are encouraged to make use of the expertise and knowledge of their advisors. In its very basic nature, the advising process is designed to help students to make the right academic and career-related decisions. As such, all students should become familiar with the advising process and their rights and obligations during enrollment at AGU. The following guidelines will help you to benefit from the advising services:

(a) Why students should see their advisor?

- To select courses for specific semester
- To complete the registration procedure for a semester
- To add or drop a course (or courses)
- To discuss academic standing and progress
- To discuss any problems affecting their academic performance
- To declare specialization
- To review their degree plan
- To discuss career options and personal development plans

(b) How students should see their advisor?

- Become familiar with your advisor's office hours and his or her plans for advising.
- Whenever it is possible, call to make an appointment with your advisor rather than dropping by without an appointment.
- If it is necessary to drop by without appointment, try to do so during your advisor's declared office hours.
- Try to avoid discussing important issues at the beginning or at the end of a semester as, most probably, your advisor will be very busy at those times.

9 Academic Integrity

Academic integrity plays a very critical role in the mission of the University. Students are expected to demonstrate academic honesty as per the academic integrity code. The Academic Integrity Code for the University describes standards of academic conduct, procedures for addressing violations of the code and students' responsibilities. Any violation of the academic integrity code is a serious offence which may lead to imposition of penalties, according to the Academic Integrity Code.

It is the responsibility of the student to complete his/her work with absolute honesty and integrity. The academic work includes all assignments, tests, projects, case studies, presentations, field work, lab work and examinations. The students must also read and comprehend the "Academic Integrity Code" and "Examination Rules" of the University which are published in the Student handbook. When a student registers in the University, he/she accepts the code along with other rules and regulations of the University.

Students are responsible for understanding the requirements for each course and the kind of work is required, permitted, and accepted by the instructors. It is the responsibility of the instructors to explain and clarify these requirements, especially regarding take home assignments, case studies, projects, and team-based course work. The Academic Integrity Code covers all forms of plagiarism/cheating, and impersonation and it is applicable for all courses and programs offered throughout the academic year including summer semester. For the purpose of determining academic violations and misconduct, cheating and plagiarism are defined as follows:

9.1 Plagiarism

Plagiarism is presenting the work or ideas of somebody else in a way posing it as one's own work. Examples of plagiarism include the following:

- a) Copying another person's work either word by word or making some changes but keeping the structure, much of the language, and main ideas the same. Even if the work has not been published, it should be treated as someone else's work and not the student's own work.
- b) Buying, borrowing, or otherwise obtaining and handing in a paper, project or course assignment as if it was the student's own work.
- c) Turning in work someone else has prepared/completed, even if the paper is enclosed in quotation marks. Also, a large part of the paper cannot simply be quotations.
- d) Allowing someone else to edit, rewrite or make substantial changes in one's own work and turning it in without acknowledging the other person's contribution.
- e) Using someone else's words or ideas without crediting that person.
- f) Reusing your own material that was previously submitted in some other course(s).

The students should observe the following guidelines to avoid plagiarism:

- (a) If someone else's words are used, they must be properly cited by putting quotation marks around them and making reference to the source.
- (b) If any multimedia item downloaded from the internet, the source of the item must be identified and cited.

- (c) Every book, magazine, or internet site used in a paper must be identified in the bibliography.
- (d) For the purpose of referencing students must use the standards for writing and citation manuals.
- (e) If the student is not sure if he/she is plagiarizing someone's work or not, he/she should discuss it with his/her faculty before submitting the assignment.

Prevention of Plagiarism

To detect and curb the plagiarism, all assessment items (assignments, essays, case studies, project reports etc.) of every course must be submitted through the plagiarism detection tool prescribed by the university<sup>1</sup>. The assessment items for the courses requiring extensive use of mathematical/scientific equations, scientific/engineering drawings, design diagrams, accounting/balance ledger sheets etc., can be exempted from this mandatory requirement provided the concerned faculty has received a written permission from his/her Dean/Academic Head.

Students are required to check originality of their work through prescribed plagiarism detection tool to make appropriate amendments before submitting to the concerned faculty. Students must understand that the score or percentage<sup>2</sup> provided by the plagiarism detection tool is a warning indicator only and a low score alone cannot ensure the absence of plagiarism.

Faculty use this tool to check students' work for plagiarism by obtaining an originality report. Even a zero (0) percent score does not absolve faculty's responsibility to ensure that students' work or assignment is not only free from plagiarism but also not concealed by students using synonyms, word substitution or any other method rendering the entire work essentially meaningless or gibberish. Faculty must apply professional judgment when determining the amount or extent of plagiarized material in any form. They must carefully review students' work and document their feedback in support of their grades/evaluation. Ultimately it is the responsibility of the faculty to read/evaluate students' work carefully before grading their work. Failure to comply with these obligations may lead to the following consequences:

- a) First incidence of negligence will lead to the issuance of warning letter.
- b) Second incidence of negligence will lead to termination.

9.2 Cheating

Cheating is an attempt to do an assignment or take a test or quiz by any means other than the exercise of one's own knowledge or effort. Examples of cheating include the following:

- c) Using a textbook or any reference material, notes, notebook, dictionary, calculator, or any other electronic device during a quiz, test, final examination, and supervised laboratory or class exercises unless it is permitted by the instructor.

<sup>2</sup> SafeAssign manual provides the following information which is helpful in understanding the SafeAssign score of the originality report. The overall SafeAssign score indicates the probability that the submitted work contains matches to existing sources. This score is a warning indicator only. Review students' work to see if the matches are properly attributed.

- Low: Scores below 15 percent: This work typically includes some quotes and few common phrases or blocks of text that match other documents. Typically, such work may not require further analysis as there might be no evidence of plagiarism.
- Medium: Scores between 15 percent and 40 percent: This work include extensive quoted or paraphrased material, or might include plagiarism. Review such work to determine if the matching text is properly referenced.
- High: Scores over 40 percent: A very high probability exists that text in this work was copied from other sources. Such work includes quoted or paraphrased text in excess, and need to be reviewed for plagiarism.

(Source: https://help.blackboard.com/SafeAssign/Instructor/Grade/Originality\_Report)

- d) Looking at another student's test or quiz or allowing another student to look at one's own paper during the examination period.
- e) Doing an assignment (paper, project, exercise, etc.) for another student, or having someone else to do one's own work.
- f) Giving help to or asking for help from another person unless it is permitted by the instructing faculty.
- g) Possession of mobile phone or any other electronic device in the examination hall while the exams are being conducted.
- h) Changing an answer on an already-graded examination and then asking for a grade review.
- i) Obtaining improper access to the contents of an exam.

9.3 Impersonation

Taking a test or exam in place of another student, or soliciting someone else takes that particular test or exam is termed as an act of impersonation:

- a) A student who arranges for another individual to undertake or write a test or exam for and on his/her behalf, as well as the individual who writes this test or exam, will be subject to discipline under Academic Integrity Code of the university. Both the impersonator and the student who takes benefit from the act of impersonation, if found guilty, would face severe penalty leading to dismissal from the University in accordance with the Academic Integrity code.
- b) The university reserves a right to report this matter to the designated departments for further investigation and prosecution.

9.4 Academic Integrity Violations and Penalties

The faculty directly involved in teaching a particular course has the primary responsibility in educating his/her students to refrain from various forms of plagiarism, cheating and impersonation and to communicate clearly the penalties that the students might face by the Academic Integrity and Student Code Violations Committee (AISCVC) of the University in case they are found guilty of academic misconduct. The penalties are defined as under:

- a) Cheating/Plagiarism in Class – Zero marks in the relevant component of class work/test along with a verbal reprimand or warning letter. This penalty is awarded by the relevant faculty for academic misconduct incidences during semester and must be reported to the Registrar.
- b) Cheating in Semester-End Exam – Failing grade in the relevant course along with a warning letter for committing cheating in semester-end examination. This penalty is awarded by the AISCVC and must be reported to the Registrar.
- c) Second Offence – Failing grade in the course and suspension for one semester. This penalty is awarded by the AISCVC and must be reported to the Registrar.
- d) Third Offence – Failing grade in the course and dismissal from the university. This penalty is awarded by the AISCVC and must be reported to the Registrar.
- e) Impersonation – Failing grade in the course and dismissal from the university. This penalty is awarded by the AISCVC and must be reported to the Registrar.

All incidences of misconduct and the penalty awarded by the faculty or AISCVC must be reported to the Registrar who shall maintain an Academic Misconduct File of all cases of academic dishonesty with the appropriate documentation. Registrar shall distribute an updated record version of Academic Misconduct File to the President, Vice President Academic Affairs, and all College Deans and Heads of Departments at the end of each semester.

9.5 Academic Integrity and Student Code Violations

A committee named “Academic Integrity and Student Code Violations Committee” shall be formed by the President of the University at the beginning of each academic year comprising at least three faculty members to review and decide any alleged violations of student code of conduct or any act of academic misconduct in accordance with the rules and regulations of the university.

9.5.1 Procedures

For matters relating to academic misconduct, it will be referred to the AISCVC either by the relevant faculty or the invigilator. The complete evidence of plagiarism/cheating or impersonation along with supporting material must also be provided. The academic integrity cases will be dealt in accordance with the relevant provisions of Academic Integrity Policy. The cases concerning student code of conduct violations may be reported by the Registrar to AISCVC along with detailed information/evidence. The AISCVC shall observe the following procedure:

- (a) The Committee shall convene meetings as soon as possible after receiving the alleged case of misconduct. The Committee shall examine the evidence and hear the arguments from the faculty/staff who reported the academic misconduct or student code of conduct incident.
- (b) The accused student shall be provided an opportunity of personal hearing before the Committee. The allegation shall be fully explained to the student and be allowed to give his/her point of view in defense. The student shall also have the right to examine the evidence and defend his/her position in front of the Committee. The proceedings of the case shall be properly documented.
- (c) The Committee shall examine the case and evidence/defense presented during proceedings and decide the matter within seven (7) working days of receiving the case in accordance with the prevailing policies of academic integrity or student code of conduct.
- (d) The Committee shall communicate its decisions along with complete record to the Registrar for implementation and documentation of cases of misconduct in an Academic Misconduct File.

9.5.2 Student Appeals Policy and Procedures

The student has the right to appeal to the Students’ Grievance and Appeal Committee (SGAC) of the University against the penalty imposed by the Academic Integrity and Student Code Violations Committee within seven working days after the date the decision was notified. The appeal will generally be accepted, if made on one of the following grounds:

- (a) Procedural irregularities
- (b) Presenting new evidence
- (c) Inconsistency of the decision

9.6 Students' Grievance and Appeal Committee (SGAC)

Students' Grievance and Appeal Committee (SGAC) is an appropriate forum to address students' grievances and students' appeal against AISCVC. In special circumstances, the President may refer a student's appeal to the SGAC and advise the committee to re-examine the entire case and submit its recommendations to the President for final decision.

9.6.1 Procedures

The key procedures to be followed by SGAC are as under:

- (a) The Chairman Students' Grievance and Appeal Committee must inform the student in writing asking him/her to appear in front of the Committee to submit his/her grievances or the grounds of appeal against the decision of the Academic Integrity and Student Code Violations Committee.
- (b) The Committee shall review/investigate the grievance/appeal and decide the matter within seven (7) working days of receiving the case. In case of any policy/procedure violation, the SGAC may refer the case back to AISCVC for review and decision.
- (c) In case of an appeal, the decision of SGAC shall not result in the imposition of more severe penalty than those imposed initially.
- (d) The Chairman SGAC shall submit its recommendations on the grievance/appeal to the President for approval. Once the decision is approved by the President, the Chairman SGAC will communicate the decision to the student as well as other relevant officials of the University.
- (e) The decision of the President or the President's designee shall be final.
